ANNUAL

Foreword

Our trip AROUND THE WORLD has just begun. The time has come for all of us to pack our bags and take our passport, the diploma, into the waiting world. Before we make ready, we shall take time to look through the '58 Annual at the little excursions which helped us prepare for our big trip. Excitement, activities, and adventure; concentration, studies, and cogitation; all are brought into view as we gaze upon the map of the past.

Tomorrow we will wake up in a new and different atmosphere. For some, the sea will be too stormy, the flying too treacherous; their destination will seem very far away. But for those who have conscientiously planned their itinerary, the adventure into tomorrow will become a reality.

Dedicated to:

T. J. Masticola

The Class of 1958 has chosen to dedicate its Annual to a teacher who himself was once a student at Chester High School. As president of the Varsity Club, captain of the basketball team, and pitcher on the 1944 championship baseball team, this outstanding citizen was graduated in June, 1945, and went on to study at Pennsylvania State University on a partial athletic scholarship.

In 1950, after serving in the United States Army in Japan, our dedicatee returned to Chester High School, this time to take his place on the other side of the desk as a teacher of social studies. Since that time, he has never failed to do his best to further the school's prestige, influence, and school spirit. In addition to his educational responsibilities and coaching assignments, his work as adviser of the Student Council qualifies Thomas J. Masticola as a person to whom we very proudly dedicate the 1958 Annual.

In Memoriam

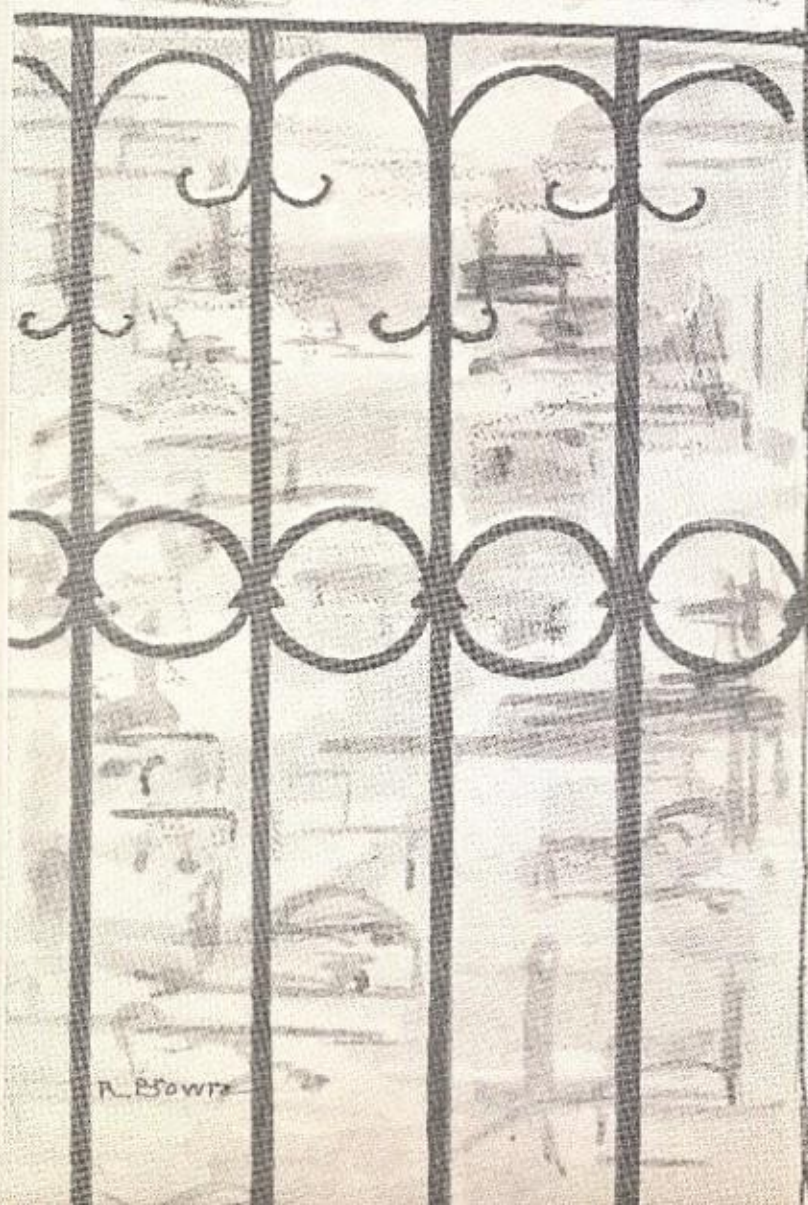

Raymond G. Yeich, teacher, adviser and friend, began his teaching career at Chester High School in 1946 as a member of the Vocational Department. Because of a keen interest in science, however, Mr. Yeich soon became a member of the science faculty in the high school.

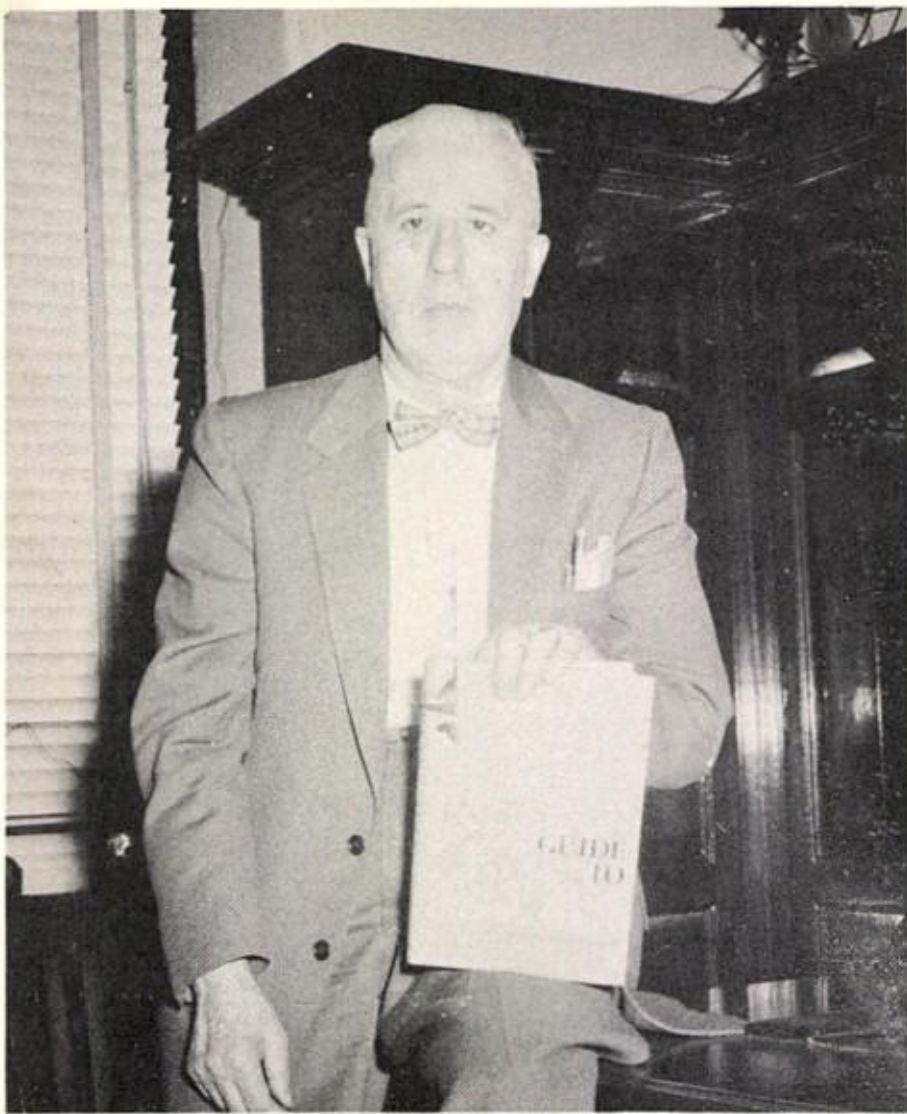

He was a man of intense loyalty to the school, to the community, and to the pupils he taught. His profound understanding and admirable courage came as a result of his faith in God.

In June, 1957, Raymond Yeich was called by the Master Teacher. The Class of 1958 dedicates this page to the memory of a sincere teacher and friend.

A SALUTE TO THE SENIORS

Around the world young people will soon be completing a very basic stage in life development. Teen-age will become adulthood, and the responsibilities and privileges of mature citizenship will become a fact. It should be a time for soul searching and frank appraisal, for the whole round world of tomorrow, your tomorrow, will be what you are.

Let us pause for a moment, my young friends, and think it through. True, you will bring skill and knowledge and ambition and determination to your world. But that will not be enough. You must bring to your world faith, faith in God and His purposes; faith in your fellowmen and in yourselves. With that kind of faith in the souls of youth around the world, it will continue to be God's world, and not a shattered dream. God speed you on your way!

Your Friend,
KARL AGAN

Around the World—An appropriate theme for your Annual. The roads and by-ways now beckon, and along these lanes of the world's traffic, you will meet with challenges and experiences such as have never before confronted our people.

We, the faculty at Chester High, feel that you are now ready to begin your excursion through life just as we are sure that our experiences together during these past few years are memorable ones. We are also sure that they will prove of some value in your travels.

Embark upon this journey with courage and faith and may success and happiness be yours in your travels.

What Chester Makes Makes Chester. To the world this slogan stands as the symbol of a great industrial city. To Chester High School this slogan stands as a constant challenge that has resulted in the formation of a commercial curriculum geared to prepare its graduates for the competitive world of business.

The student who meets the rigid requirements of the Commercial Department finds that the door of opportunity is open. The CHS commercial graduate is always in demand.

Shrinking international boundaries and tremendous advancements in scientific research have focused the spotlight on public education. There are those who cry for a stepped-up scientific approach, forgetting that the education of a scientist includes the study of languages, music, art, history, or what formerly were called the humanities.

It is an irrefutable fact that not all students can become scientists. Therefore, the curriculum at Chester High School embodies six major courses of study—College Preparatory, Commercial, Vocational, Art Major, Home-making, General—designed to meet the requirements of an industrial community, yet capable of training students interested either in a professional or a business career.

Inspired by Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Molloy, students of the Art Department have participated in many school and civic undertakings, winning numerous prizes and awards for their artistic achievements. Graduates of the Art Major Course are qualified to enter any accredited art school or college.

The vast industrial might of our nation began with boys who were interested in doing things with their hands. It is logical, therefore, that Chester High School, situated in the highly industrialized Delaware Valley, should provide courses in Vocational Education designed to prepare its graduates for their role in industrial America.

The importance of a well-adjusted home to child welfare has long been accepted by social agencies. The Homemaking Department knows that it is engaged in "big business", because today's woman must be familiar with more than cooking, sewing, and child care; she must be a financier, educator, mechanic, and a source of inspirational leadership for her family. What better place than the nation's schools to provide such training!

In addition, activities such as cheerleading, archery, tennis, bowling, swimming, horseback riding and volleyball are provided.

It not only aims to build the body, but also it tries to develop the mind and character through fair play and sportsmanship.

One of the busiest organizations in the school, the Future Teachers of America Club is an association that appeals to those students in the Junior and Senior classes who are interested in entering the teaching profession. Headed by Dr. Jordan, the FTA takes part in such activities as the Thanksgiving Game Chrysanthemum Sale, the Autumn Dance, and this year has also sold Chester High charm-pins and Valentine corsages.

The Future Teachers attend many meetings of other chapters and act as hosts to these chapters in return. The proceeds from the various money-making projects are used for a scholarship which is awarded to a senior member at graduation.

Industrial Society

The Industrial Society, an organization composed entirely of vocational students, held its first meeting at Chester High School in 1920 under the leadership of Mr. David Baker, now retired.

The present organization, now piloted by Mr. Blair Ganoe, holds regular monthly meetings of particular interest to vocational boys. Guest speakers from the leading industries of this area meet with the boys and acquaint them with some of the problems they will encounter when they are ready to take their place in the industrial world.

The lighter side of the picture reveals the Industrial Society sponsoring several dances throughout the school term. All activities end with a picnic near the end of the school year.

The Linguist Society sponsors a program each month to offer additional information, such as art, customs, and music of the different countries to make the study of the language more enjoyable to the student. Advisors to this group are the language teachers of their respective subjects: Mr. Hartman, Miss Muldoon, Miss Massino, Miss Pancoast, Mr. Addis, and Mr. Mailman.

The Junior Chest committee, spearheaded by that mighty Walt Disney character, Jiminy Crickett, carried the Red Feather campaign in the Chester Schools to an unprecedented finish with a total collection of nearly one thousand dollars.

The money will be used for various welfare organization work in the city of Chester, but the real thrill of victory must go to those workers who made this program so successful. The students participating on the various school programs were chosen by Miss Mary Muldoon while the other committee personnel was chosen by Miss Cassell and Mr. Daly.

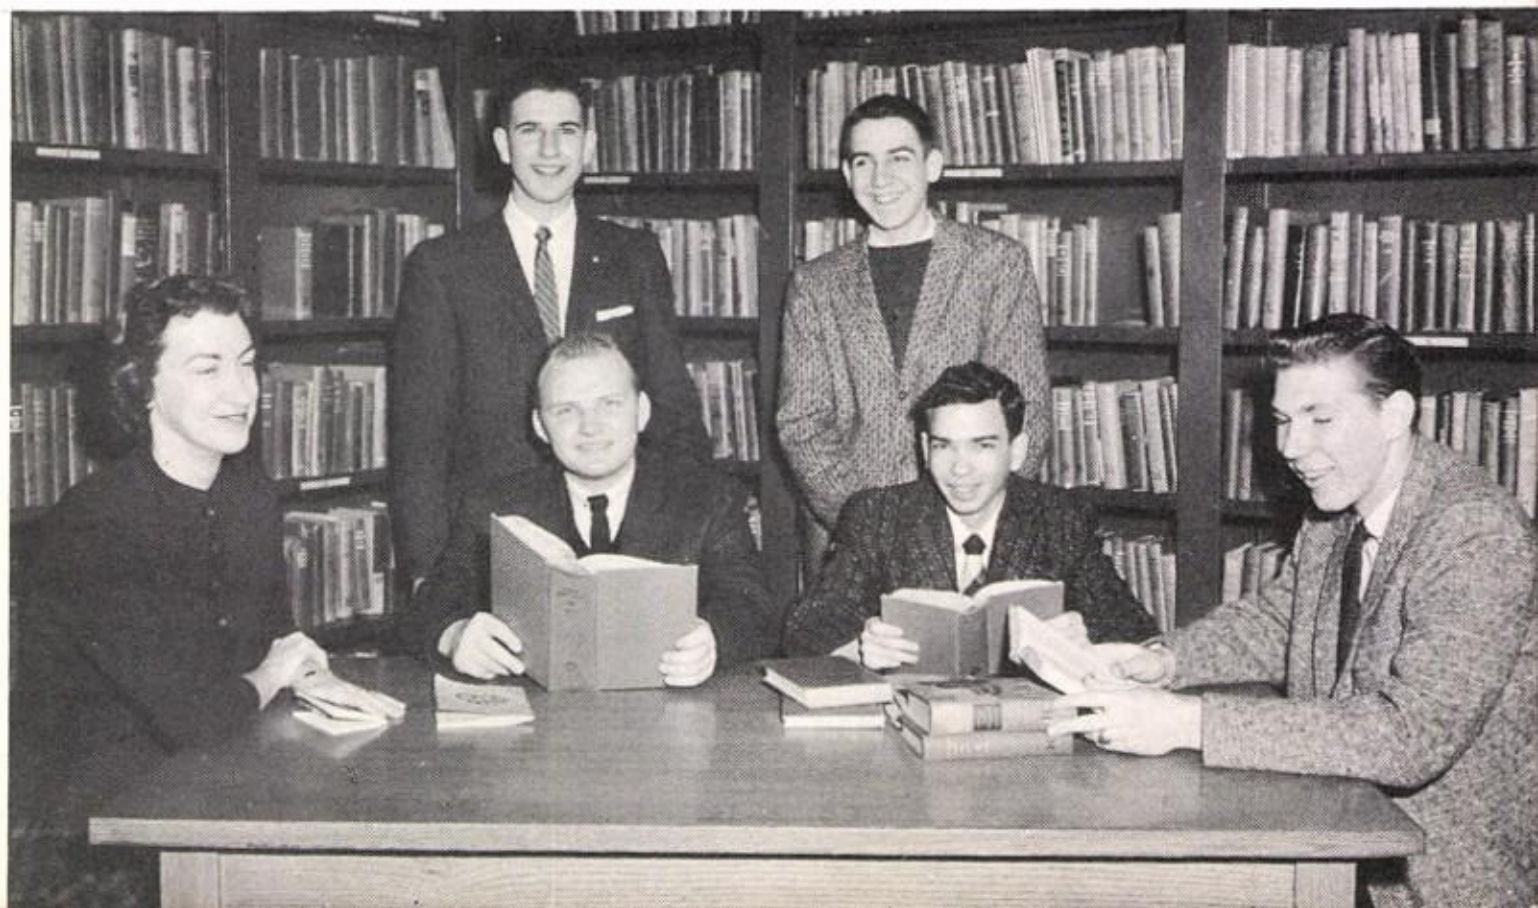

Watching a quiz program can be as exciting as seeing your favorite sport, especially if the quiz show you are watching is the Scott Hi-Q.

The Hi-Q team for '58 has had a most exciting and successful season, scoring thirty-eight out of a possible forty points in one contest, the highest team score ever reached by any panel group.

To become a member of this famous quiz team, the student must have a wide knowledge of a variety of subjects, such as music, science, literature, mathematics, and current events. Truly it is a battle of brains.

Seniors who will have completed three years in this high school and who are planning to further their education on a college level leading to a degree are eligible for aid through this fund if they fulfill the qualifications of scholarship, character, contributions to the school, and financial need which are stipulated by the corporation.

A student committee is selected each year which publicizes this scholarship with the hope that it will encourage students to work more diligently to meet the qualifications which might make it possible to fulfill their ambitions of higher education so necessary in the world today.

"THIS SOLUTION MIGHT BURN your little fingers," says Dr. Edward Carton from Scott Paper as he addresses the Science Club during one of their programs.

In our world of rockets and missiles, science plays a major role. The Science Club at Chester High School offers the inquiring mind the opportunity to satisfy a natural curiosity. Furthermore, it supplements classroom instruction by introducing leaders in the field of atomic research and industrial chemistry to its members.

Throughout the year, the program of the club is designed to cover a wide range of interests. This area includes lectures or demonstrations in the science of physics, chemistry, biology, and visual aids projection.

Honor Society

To become a member of the National Honor Society at Chester High School is a goal worthy of one's best efforts. It is an honor reserved for the few, since only five per cent of the senior class and fifteen per cent of the junior class are eligible for membership.

Although scholarship is a primary requisite for membership in the society, character, leadership, and service to the school play an important part in earning the student the opportunity of becoming a member. Mr. Harold Hartman serves as adviser to this group.

"AND SO FAR, FAR ON INTO THE NIGHT." Welcome adviser Wiggins finds that producing a school newspaper presents some interesting problems.

"Introducing . . ." the WELCOME, a member of the Pennsylvania and Columbia Scholastic Press Associations. This school newspaper, appearing every Monday in the Chester Times, brings news-packed enjoyment to all the students at CHS. Feature items, school news, sports and editorials are among the weekly entries which make the paper representative of the student body.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Edna Wiggins, the staff writes the stories, plans the "lay-out," and proof reads all articles submitted for publication. The WELCOME again won top honors in both the CSPA and the PSPA contests.

ADVICE FROM AN EXPERT. Mr. Magnin, city manager of the Chester Times, briefs Welcome editors Barbara Heck and Betsy Boyce on the art of headline writing.

"DON'T JUST STAND THERE; BUY SOMETHING." Welcome cakebake enthusiastically supported "starved" Chesterites.

"AND HOW DO YOU LIKE CHESTER HIGH?" Kay Replogle, Welcome reporter, interviews Miss Virginia Jakob, newly elected gym instructor at CHS.

The Annual

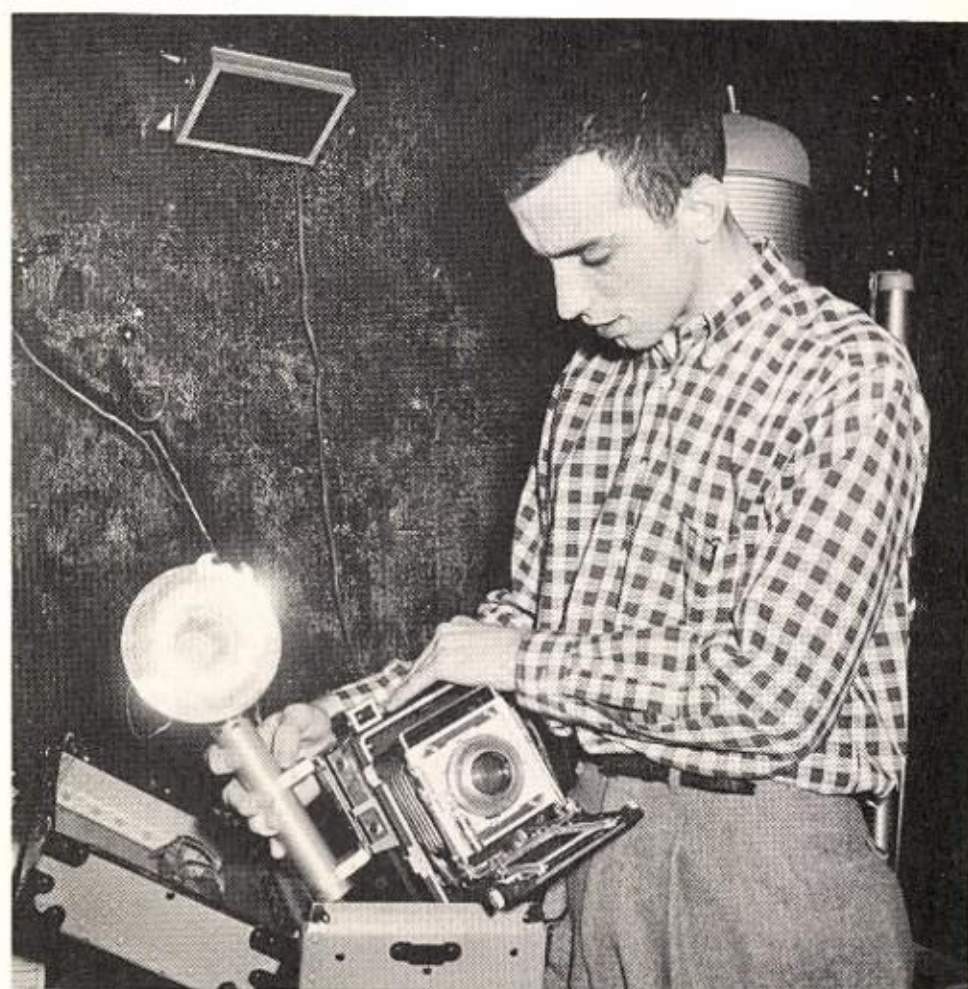

SPORTS EDITING IS A DIFFICULT JOB, but it is accomplished quite efficiently in the hands of Kay Plummer and George Rennie, Girl and Boy Sports Editor, respectively.

LAYOUTS! PICTURES! CAPTIONS! . . . these are the constant headaches that accompany the burning of the "midnight oil" as the staff strives to complete the task of taking you "Around the World".

With every member of the staff working to their fullest under the watchful eye of Mr. Berger, adviser, the "mountain" became a "mole-hill" and so the 1958 ANNUAL went into final production.

Now, before the supplement is begun, the staff can take the time to review with you the happenings of the year, as presented in the '58 ANNUAL.

PREPARING FOR ACTION. Charles Springham, Annual photographer, checks the Speed Graphic before covering an assignment.

CLICK, CLICK, CLICK, Annual typists Betty Beauchamp, Judy Boyer, Diane Bewley, Rita Day, and Lucy Gruhler "go to town" as adviser Berger stands guard.

"WELL, WHICH PICTURE SHALL WE USE THIS TIME?" asks Jane Martinson, Literary Editor, of Robin Bonier and Jackie Shanklin, Assistants, as the Big Three hold another meeting.

PAYING WITH A SMILE. Mary Ann Lamont and Joyce Hollywood hand the "long green" to Lucy Gruhler and Mary Trynovich, business managers for the 1958 Annual.

EVEN MR. URSPRUNG IS PUZZLED. Picture selection provides problems for Cooke Publishing Company representative.

DESIGNS FOR A MEDALIST, WE HOPE. Art staff places finishing touches to '58 Annual material. (Clockwise) Ruth Brown, Betty Morris, Betty Wiley, Stella Baziotes, Charlie Springman, Shirley Drouin, and Penny Woodrow.

FIRST-HAND INFORMATION from Michigan State. Costa Miller, former CHS great, briefs Mr. Agan about "life on the campus".

"WHERE'S MINE, DADDY?" questions Tommy Masticola, looking at the Christmas "loot" in Publications.

"Publication"

Christmas Party

THE "LIGHTER SIDE" of Publications. Staff members "dig in" at the 1957 Christmas Party. P.S.: Not a crumb was left.

A PROBLEM IN LONG DIVISION. A. L. Berger, Annual adviser, prepares to cut his birthday cake into "51" equal pieces.

Dramatic Society

"DRAMATIC SOCIETY OFFICERS practicing their dramatic ability?" They are Justine DiMaio, president; Kay Replogle, secretary; Charles Springman, vice-president; and Stella Baziotes, treasurer.

"THOSE FLOWERS GO LOVELY WITH YOUR DRESS," says Richard Rogalas as he hands Kay Replogle that old "sales line".

During our travels, we will see many new changes of scenery and meet many new characters. Developing the talents of both actors and set design artists, is the aim of the Dramatic Society. Once a month, the group sponsors a play for the enjoyment of all its members. As all of the students are not able to participate in all of the plays themselves, they still receive so much enjoyment in seeing their classmates on the stage.

somehow..."

HANG ON, MAN; HE'S SLIPPERY. Practice session finds A. Crews (21) sliding away from a would-be tackler as Fellenbaum (25) provides interference.

RAY, CHESTER; RAY, RAY, CHESTER! BEAT CHELTENHAM! Cheerleader captain Lamont provides just the right touch for a 27-26 CHS victory.

PLENTY OF WORK BEFORE THE FIRST GAME. Head coach Vermeychuk and his assistants, Grainger, Sfakianos, Sulpezio, and Slezak (missing) study their candidates during an early practice.

Football

The tang of autumn, an early morning pep rally, the sale of season tickets, and the familiar "We want a touchdown" heralded the opening of the pigskin parade at Chester High.

Following a rough beginning, losses to Haverford, Atlantic City, and Ridley Township, the Clippers got their second wind and bowled over Haddon Heights, Cheltenham, Upper Darby, and Abington before being stopped by Norristown. A final victory over the "Media Mustangs" on Thanksgiving Day (27-0) brought the season to a dramatic finish with a total of five wins and four losses.

END AROUND finds Dick Adams (28) going for a substantial gain in the Chester-Media game.

PART OF THE BIG SHOW—CHS lensman catches Marie Rossi, Doretha Hooks, Lorraine McCullough, and Barbara Liebman, flag twirlers and majorette captains, going through their paces at the Chester-Media game.

"WHAT 'CHA DOING, DRIBBLING WITH YOUR CHIN?" Granny Lash registers surprise as he discovers Lower Merion player hoarding the ball.

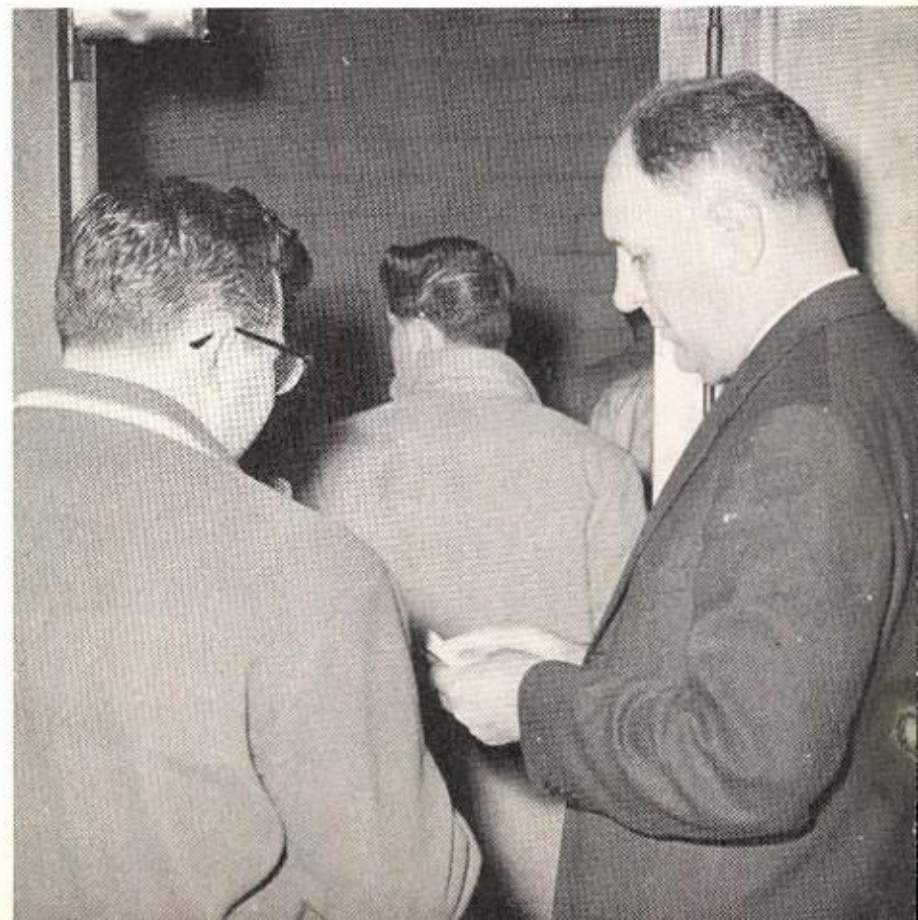

TIME OUT, CHESTER! Quiet words of encouragement by Coach Forwood spur Clippers to their fifth Section I Championship.

ONE GAME TOO MANY! Emotions reach the breaking point as Haverford defeats Chester, 57-56, for the District I Championship.

"AROUND THE WORLD they talk about our Clippers." So it seems to the average student at Chester High, for from December to March the magic word is basketball.

By the end of the 1957 season, Coach "Bob" Forwood and his Clippers had amassed an unusual total of 102 wins with only 9 losses. IMPRESSIVE??

However, like "Old Man River," the 1958 Clippers just kept rolling along, emerging undefeated in league competition. With the close of the 1958 season, Mr. Basketball had coached the Orange and Black through five tough seasons, winning the amazing total of 126 games and losing 12. LOOK AT THIS RECORD.

With an unprecedented record of two undefeated seasons, Coach "Dutch" Boyer has piloted his "Junior Clippers" to forty-three straight victories. This type of basic training speaks well for the continued high standard of Chester High basketball.

TRY AND GET IT. Chubby Foster grabs the rebound in the Lansdowne-Aldan fracas at the Penn Palestra.

Answering the call of the cinder path were approximately fifty candidates, most of them juniors. This response forecasts a great year in 1959, especially since these boys usually reach their peak performance during their senior year.

IN YOU

We put our trust and love

TRYING TO TEACH HIM THE SCALE, JUDY? The candid camera finds Miss Student Council (Judy Ennamorato) and her escort absorbed in music.

A LESSON IN PRECISION? Well, at least they all had fun.

NO LOSS OF MANPOWER HERE. Safety Committee, under the direction of Mr. Hrabak, eliminates operational hazards.

STRICTLY BIG LEAGUE PATTERN. CHS baseball mentor, Jesse Brewster, swaps stories with Curt Simmons, star pitcher for the Phillies.

Casual Moments

"NERVOUS, ERIC?" murmurs Mrs. Davis, trying to put Eric Swenson at ease while checking his "pearly whites".

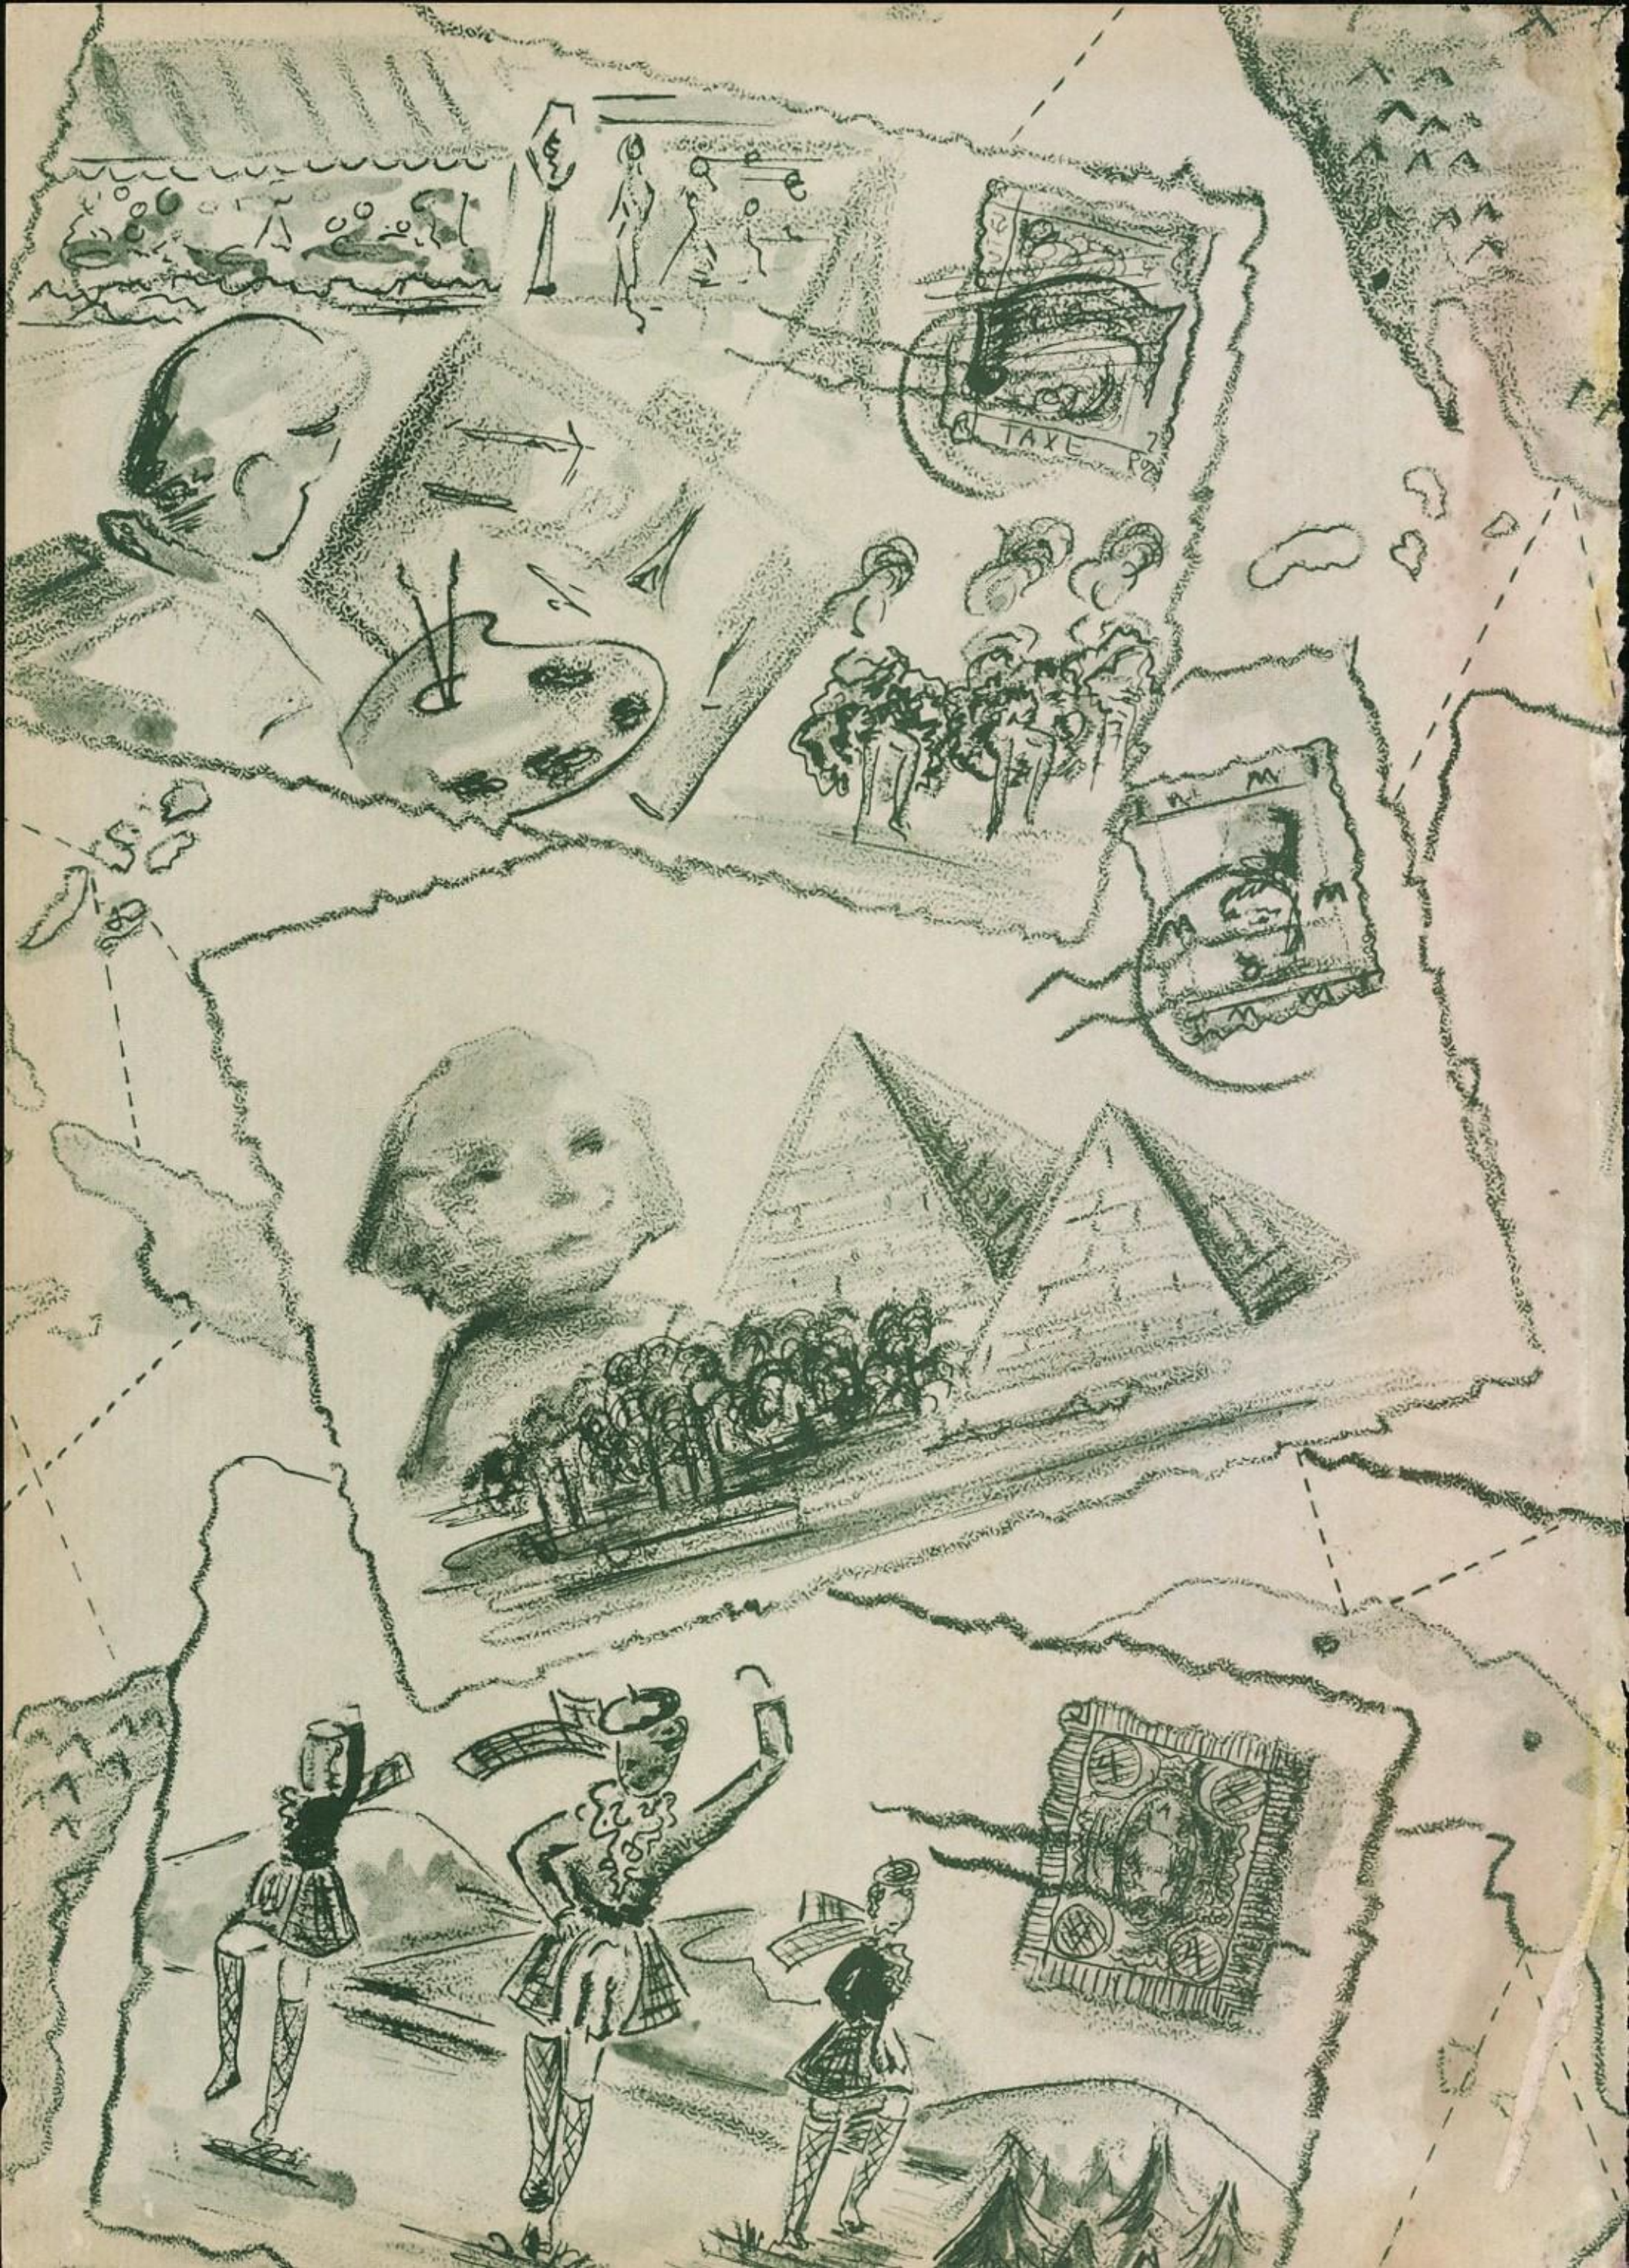

KEEP YOUR FINGERS CLEAR — is a constant reminder of Mr. Gordon as he instructs Pete Santucci in the art of printing.

"I have found my world in you"
